Bhargava Matching Scheme

The Bhargava Matching Scheme (ABC) is a method to match the vowels and consonants in Telugu script. According to this scheme, certain rules are followed to determine the sequence of vowels and consonants.

Rules:

- Certain vowels (A, E, I, O, U) are matched with specific consonants.
- The matching scheme is used to ensure the correct pronunciation of words.

For example:

- व (v) matches with क (k), व (v), द (d), and घ (gh) in certain contexts.
- अ (a) matches with क (k), अ (a), ए (ae), and ओ (owo) in certain contexts.

The scheme is useful in understanding the phonetics of the Telugu language.
